WHO WE ARE

The Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences (PNAS), the official journal of the US National Academy of Sciences, is an authoritative source of high-impact, original research that broadly spans the biological, physical, and social sciences. The journal is published daily online and in weekly issues.

The National Academy of Sciences is an honorific society comprising approximately 2,250 members and nearly 440 foreign associates, of whom approximately 200 are Nobel laureates. New members are elected annually in recognition of their distinguished research achievements, and election is considered one of the highest honors that can be accorded a scientist or engineer. All papers published in PNAS have the seal of approval of an Academy member.

ARTICLE AND JOURNAL METRICS

Many metrics, largely citation-based, exist or are being developed to measure the impact of journals and journal articles. Article-level metrics data and article downloads are available for all PNAS articles.

Article-level metrics measure the reach and impact of an article by tracking the mentions it receives online. The data can be found in a tab near the top of each article. Clicking on the tab will reveal a summary of mentions of the article across news sites, blogs, social media, and other online sources—which are visualized in a colorful icon, or “badge.” The number in the middle of the badge is the Altmetric score, which is based on the volume, type, and author of the mentions. Article downloads by month and by article format appear below. Users can click on the badge or “See more details” to explore the individual mentions from each source in detail. For more information about PNAS article and journal-level metrics, visit www.pnas.org/site/aboutpnas/metrics.xhtml.

PNAS ONLINE

PNAS Online is the version of record and receives more than 50 million hits per month, and all articles are available free online after 6 months. PNAS is abstracted and/or indexed in, for example: CABI, Chemical Abstracts Service, EBSCOhost, Elsevier Scopus, Gale, H. W. Wilson, Index Medicus, Journal Watch, JSTOR, OCLC, Ovid, ProQuest, Psychological Abstracts, PubMed, PubMed Central, SCI, and Clarivate Analytics BIOSIS and Current Contents.

PNAS OFFERS FREE ACCESS TO:

- PNAS Front Matter content
- PNAS Journal Club blog
- Online-only supporting information (SI)
- Summaries of the latest papers in Highlights from Latest Articles
- Email alerts: daily or weekly Latest Articles, tables of content (eTOCs) and PNAS announcements
- Custom CiteTrack research profile alerting
- Back issues free 6 months after issue publication, dating back to 1915
- Cover image gallery
- Science Sessions, the PNAS podcast program

PNAS ALSO INCLUDES THESE FEATURES:

- Interjournal linking from an article in PNAS to the free full text of a cited reference
- Cross-journal searching across multiple journals
- Viewable references coordinated to MEDLINE abstracts
- References downloadable to citation managers
- Special collections of papers at a glance: Colloquia, Commentaries, Editorials, Inaugural Articles, Perspectives, Profiles, QnAs, Reviews, and Special Features
- Improved readability through new formatting, better positioning of content, and more accessible links
- Ability to purchase access to a single article ($10)

FOR AUTHORS

DIRECT SUBMISSION

PNAS is one of the most highly cited multidisciplinary science journals, with an impact factor of 9.7 and an Eigenfactor of 1.2 for 2016. Direct Submission is the primary and preferred route for publication in PNAS.

When you choose Direct Submission, the PNAS Editorial Office oversees the review process and you can

- streamline the process by uploading a single combined manuscript PDF file at initial submission;
- submit directly to PNAS online at www.pnascentral.org without needing an Academy member to sponsor your paper;
- track your manuscript's progress online;
- receive a first decision in an average of 21 days; and
- have your paper published online in as few as 4–5 weeks after acceptance.

OPEN ACCESS

Choose open access and make your PNAS article freely available immediately upon publication.

- 34% of authors choose open access
- Authors at an institution with an active site license pay a discounted price to make their papers immediately free online

PNAS PLUS

You can publish a research article with:

- An expanded 10-page limit
- A Significance Statement that publishes in a collection for each issue

Submissions are welcomed from researchers all over the world.

95% of submitted papers are Direct Submissions.

PNAS is committed to transparency in its editorial review process. See www.pnas.org/site/authors/authorfaq.xhtml.

All articles are evaluated solely on their scientific merit by peers—not by staff editors.

EDITORIAL BOARD

All papers in PNAS are evaluated by an editorial board of expert Academy members in one of the following disciplines:

Animal, Nutritional, and Applied Microbial Sciences
Anthropology
Applied Physical Sciences
Applied Mathematical Sciences
Astronomy
Biochemistry
Biophysics and Computational Biology
Cellular and Developmental Biology
Cellular and Molecular Neuroscience
Chemistry
Computer and Information Sciences
Economic Sciences
Engineering Sciences
Environmental Sciences and Ecology
Evolutionary Biology
Genetics
Geology

PNAS IN THE NEWS

The PNAS Media and Communications Office provides:

- This Week in PNAS summaries of articles with broad scientific appeal
- Eye-catching images from newly published PNAS research
- Weekly Tipsheets alerting media to upcoming PNAS research papers
- 24-hour electronic access to advance copies of PNAS articles for the media through www.EurekAlert.org
- Notifications about PNAS research to the authors' institutional media officers

PNAS FRONT MATTER

Check out the expanded front section of PNAS written at a level for general discussion, tackling the stories of science from new perspectives. Free content includes Opinion pieces, News Features, explorations of the intersection of Science and Culture, a look at the Inner Workings of researchers, Core Concepts primers, timely podcasts interviews, and the PNAS Journal Club blog. Also available are Profiles, QnAs, Retrospectives, and more. Visit the expanded front section of PNAS at frontmatter.pnas.org.

COZZARELLI PRIZE

Each year, PNAS selects six outstanding articles to receive the Cozzarelli Prize in recognition of their scientific excellence and originality. Winners are selected from the research articles published in PNAS throughout the year and represent exceptional contributions to the six broadly defined classes under which the National Academy of Sciences is organized. Podcasts and video presentations with past winners are available at www.pnas.org/site/misc/cozzarelliprize.xhtml.

SUBSCRIPTIONS

WORLDWIDE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Americas	47%
Asia Pacific	30%
Europe	22%
Rest of World	1%

PROFESSIONAL BREAKDOWN OF SUBSCRIBERS

Ph.D. & Research Universities	77%
Undergraduate & Master's Universities	16%
